

Computers to Congo

Friday 23rd January 2009

IT Schools Africa donates 20 computers to project in Congo.

On the 23rd January IT Schools Africa donated 20 computers to a project in the Democratic Republic of Congo being run by the NGO Vision de Douze. The computers will be used to equip a school that retrains child soldiers. The computers were collected by Pastor Jean-Marc Lukela (left) and Florry Kiyudi from Vision de Douze.
